

BREAK the SILENCE

CONFERENCE Prevention of Violence Against Women

Saturday, October 17, 2015 9am-12pm
The Presbyterian Church in Morristown

Reverend Bonnie M. Orth, Leader of Presbyterians Against Domestic Violence Network

“Perspectives on Violence Against Women and How We as Individuals Can Make a Difference”

Of all the women on the planet, one in three has been beaten, raped or otherwise abused.

2500 cases of domestic violence are reported in Morris County
each year.

Patty Sly, Executive Director of Jersey Battered Women’s Service of Morris County “Violence Against Women Locally and Globally”

Tia Manochio, Supervisor of Domestic Violence Unit, Morris County Prosecutor’s Office
“Protecting Victims and Prosecuting Offenders”

COURAGEOUS CONVERSATION

Violence against women cuts across all ethnic, racial and economic lines.
Join us for a courageous conversation on actions we can take to:

- Reach out to victims
- Connect victims with help
- Ensure that justice is served
- Lessen the culture of violence
- Give our daughters (and sons) necessary guidance
- Support global initiatives to assist women

RSVP requested
www.pcmorristown.org 973-538-1776

Community organizations—JBWS, Atlantic Health System, NJ Coalition Against Human Trafficking, Court Appointed Special Advocates for Children, and the Morris County Prosecutor’s and Sheriff’s offices—will distribute information and answer questions during and after the presentations.